A little escapism... it's what our holidays are all about. From dawn to dusk, we've got entertainment for all ages. Spend your days getting crafty with a Creative Waves session, playing our WaveLength gameshow with virtual host Ben Shephard or learning some new steps in a dance class. Fancy a film? Sit back in the cinema and catch your favourites on the big screen. Or, if you're a football fanatic, you can watch the latest fixtures in a lively bar. And you're sure to be a fan of our award-winning magic and illusion spectacle, Unbelievable, created by Stephen Mulhern and Jonathan Wilkes.

The nights are your own, whatever your age. Choose your favourite tunes at the silent discos and strut your stuff on the dance floor as you discover new music with our party band, PULSE. Maybe you'll come away and be wowed by an exceptional dinner and a theatre show. Roll the dice in the casino or giggle away to rib-tickling comedy. You'll find there's so much to be inspired by around the clock.

Sail from home shores or take to the skies

Start your holiday as soon as you step on board in Southampton or fly straight to your ship in the sunshine – it's up to you

Set sail from Southampton

The beauty of a cruise is the effortless travel. You hand your bags over at the terminal in Southampton, go through security and that's it, your holiday's begun. No lugging bags – they'll meet you at your cabin, leaving you free to start exploring the ship. Whether you decide to dip straight in the pool, sip a cocktail on deck or beeline for the ice-cream parlour, there are plenty of ways to celebrate the beginning of your adventure.

Don't love flying?

From Southampton, you can explore the cities of Europe, the capitals of Scandinavia, the Norwegian Fjords, the Canary Islands, the Mediterranean's coastlines, the Caribbean and North America – not to mention the myriad of stops on our World Cruises.

Effortless embarkation

No weighing your suitcase, no separating your liquids: embarking your ship in Southampton is easy. Simply print and attach your luggage labels, leave your cases at the designated baggage drop and they'll appear outside your cabin door as you start exploring.

What do 'cruise in' and 'transit' mean?

When your itinerary shows 'Cruise in', these highlights are often magical moments that play a big part in your holiday. A day with a 'Cruise in' means you can watch the world go by as your ship silently slips through the still waters of the Norwegian Fjords. You may 'transit' the Panama Canal and in other iconic locations 'cruise by' or even 'sail by' or 'sail through': these are ideal times for you to have a drink in hand or be running on the treadmill with an extra-special view dreamily drifting by.

Your flights and transfers are included in your holiday price and we have representatives all set to welcome you at your destination airport.

We take care of your luggage

On P&O Cruises exclusive Caribbean charter flights, you can check your bags in at the airport and not have to think about them again – they'll meet you at your cabin on your ship. We take care of everything so that you can travel from plane to transfer to ship hands-free.

Regional flights

We know London isn't convenient for everyone, which is why we offer flights from airports around the UK on selected holidays.

Sustainability at P&O Cruises

The ocean is our home, destinations are our partners and people are our passion. Delivering extraordinary cruise experiences is our purpose. Operating ships requires energy and resources, and like all forms of travel, our holidays have environmental impacts. At P&O Cruises, we're committed to continuously improving how we operate while supporting the communities we visit and the experiences our guests enjoy. This is a long-term programme built on practical action and measurable progress.

Investing in our fleet

We're improving the efficiency of our ships by introducing new technologies and connecting to shore power in ports when operationally feasible. Shore power can reduce emissions and noise while in port, contributing to a quieter, more comfortable experience for guests and local communities. We also produce over 80% of the freshwater used on board from seawater. It's one of the many ways we manage resources carefully, because every drop counts.

Enhancing our operations

We continually review and improve our operations to reduce waste and enhance efficiency on board. This includes initiatives to reduce single-use plastics and minimise food waste, so there's less left over. We also work to refine our sailing routes and operating practices to help minimise disturbance to marine life, such as slowing our ships in recognised whale migration areas. These actions are central to delivering well managed, carefully operated holidays that our guests can choose with confidence.

Partnering with destinations

We collaborate closely with ports and local partners to support the destinations our guests love to visit. By championing local businesses and services, and organising meaningful community volunteering initiatives, we strive to make a positive and lasting difference. Our aim is to foster thriving communities that benefit from our presence, ensuring that guests and locals enjoy the advantages of cruising.

Uniting our people

Our commitment to delivering unforgettable holidays begins with our exceptional people. Whether on board or ashore, we nurture a supportive and safe working environment that promotes service, innovation and ongoing development. By empowering our people, we ensure that every guest enjoys the highest standards at every stage of their holiday with P&O Cruises.

Transparency

Operating cruise ships requires energy and resources, and like many forms of travel, our operations contribute to greenhouse gas emissions and other environmental impacts. Our ships operate under international maritime regulations governing emissions, wastewater treatment, and other permitted discharges at sea. We're focused on continuously improving how we operate and reducing our environmental footprint where possible.
